Thank you Oakland!

An open letter to the family, friends, neighbors, residents and visitors of OPR.

2012 was a great year for the Office of Parks and Recreation (OPR). In spite of many challenges, we successfully served over 64,543 program customers. As we prepare to move forward with our 2013 programs, I wanted to take the time to reflect on our 2012 accomplishments made possible by your commitment, involvement and support of OPR. Whether by financial contributions, writing letters on our behalf, enrolling in programs, or renting our facilities, each of you contributed to our success. Thank you all!

• OPR’s boating programs provided Oakland youth with scholarships valued at $14,920 allowing them to participate in week-long boating camps and after school programs.

• ACE Golf expanded its engaging programs to youth at 17 elementary, middle school and recreation centers. ACE teamed up with Camp Sweeney and Touchstone Golf to implement a job training program for youth ages 16-19, giving them the opportunity to utilize newly acquired interpersonal skills learned during golf camps.

• The tennis unit expanded its services and initiated an extensive free program at eight of our recreation centers and provided over 100 tennis rackets to our youth.

• Over 1,600 residents attended the annual Movies in the Park hosted by Redwood Heights from April to October.

• Studio One was one of 12 locations selected worldwide to host a “Mini Maker Faire”. This popular event attracted over 6,000 people to Mosswood Park.

• Community Gardening continues to expand its services and now supports 16 community gardens with almost a thousand registered participants in 2012, as well as 18 youth gardens that served approximately 300 kids. An estimated 30,000 pounds of organic food was produced in 2012 with 100% going towards feeding Oakland families.

As you know, OPR is not just about children and youth. We service families and you, the adults. Last year, we served over 30,000 adults through our Sundays in the Redwoods Concert Series, plays, adult sports leagues, East Oakland Sports Center and more!

In addition to new programming, OPR kept busy teaming up with various agencies allowing us to receive funding and complete projects, which in turn increase your property value and support our continued mission to provide a safe and clean environment for your enjoyment. We were able to work along with the Public Works Agency to complete the installation of remote lighting controls for energy efficiencies at 14 sites; renovate six basketball courts; upgrade the Morcom Rose Garden and the Lake Merritt Bird Islands, and complete four ball fields. This was made possible through partnerships with: Community Development Block Grants, Prop 40, Measure VW, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, Raiders NFL Play 60, Kaiser Foundation, Good Tidings, the National Recreation and Park Association, Sprite, the Stewardship Council, PG&E, and the Golden State Warriors.

Currently, we are gearing up for a great 2013 spring and summer, including the March Spring Egg Hunts; track season and the Hershey Track and Field Meet; Play Day in the Plaza, National Park and Recreation Month; Intimate Evening, the very popular all white attire event held at the Dunsmuir Hellman Historic Estates; and in late summer, Sunday’s in the Redwood Concert Series including the kick-off musical event Symphony Sunday at the Lake Merritt Garden Center.

Take time to browse through our brochure and register now for the programs and events you, your family and friends wish to attend. Space is limited...so don’t wait.

I value your commitment, dedication, support and appreciation of our parks, programs and services – We are here to make sure you have the opportunity to play! So... Come Out and Play the OPR Way – Where we play with a purpose.

Sincerely,

Audree V. Jones-Taylor; Director, Office of Parks and Recreation
OPR Plays With A Purpose
There is a purpose for our play—play is more than physical activity and bouncing balls. There is a reason for our play—there are outcomes to be had as well. Our babies learn when they play, our children are healthier when they play. Our youth are engaged when they play, our families are unified when they play. Our communities thrive when we play with a purpose. We aim to: Expose, Enlighten, Empower, and Encourage Educational Excellence Through Recreational Experiences.

OPR S.T.R.I.D.E.’s With A Purpose
A program exposing youth to available job opportunities and encouraging educational excellence through non-traditional recreational experiences; Striving to Redirect Individuals in a Difficult Environment (STRIDE) through providing career/training workshops and projects.

Participants to complete three (3) S.T.R.I.D.E career clusters with a rotation of each program in the following:
- Recreation, Leisure & Hospitality
- Urban Sustainability & Environmental Conservation
- Urban Technology

S.T.R.I.D.E Core Elements
- Expose participants to their own values and opportunities to achieve their goals
- Enlighten participants through project based learning
- Empower participants by providing an opportunity to earn a living
- Encourage community and family support of participants progress
- Educational excellence through recreational experiences
Oakland has a proud history of providing world-class green spaces and pioneering recreation programs for residents of all ages and incomes. We enjoy more acres per resident than other urban cities. Our many recreational programs are critical for providing safe, healthy and engaging opportunities for youth, families, and seniors. From hiking in our redwoods to exploring the arts at Studio One, to building athletic skills and team work on the ball fields or learning new skills at a neighborhood recreation center, Oakland’s Parks & Recreation programs continue to lead the way in ensuring that Oakland is a great place to live, work and play!

Please join me in raising funds for scholarships for camping and recreation opportunities for low income youth so every child can access our programs. During the recession the Parks and Recreation budget and many Oakland families have been especially hard hit.

Activities include crafts, games, sports, science labs and field trips. If you’re looking for something interesting to do over the Summer Break, check out OPR’s awesome range of programs listed in this catalog. Sign your kids up for a week full of memory-making adventures and unforgettable good times! OPR Day Camps take advantage of their beautiful natural settings to teach youth the wonders of and respect for the great outdoors while also learning to be better stewards of their own neighborhoods and parks. Camp activities encourage youngsters to make new friends, build their problem-solving skills, participate in a variety of sports, and develop self confidence and self-reliance. OPR Day Camps also serve as affordable childcare; most have programs for preschool ages and older. We also offer day camps specifically for teens. Contact your local recreation center for details.

SUMMER FUN CLUB - LAKE MERRITT GARDEN CENTER

This traditional day camp for boys and girls ages 4 to 12 offers a wide variety of activities including crafts, sports, nature walks, swimming, boating, and field trips. Located in the beautiful Garden Center at Lakeside Park, campers are encouraged to explore and appreciate all the wonders of this Oakland treasure. Campers develop friendships, as they learn independence and responsibility. SFC allows campers to fill their summer with exciting activities led by caring adults in the heart of Oakland.

COUNSELOR IN TRAINING PROGRAM (CIT)

This program is designed for youth between the ages of 13-15. Campers will have the opportunity to develop leadership and life skills while having fun working with our local day camps in the area. CIT’s will receive a certificate for each week of completion and a letter reflecting the number of hours of community service at the Office of Parks & Recreation.
OUTDOOR ADVENTURE RECREATION
The Office of Parks and Recreation’s Outdoor Adventure Recreation program was initiated in 2008 in partnership with the Outdoor Foundation, the National Parks and Recreation Association, and California State Parks. The program strives to expose Oakland youth of varying socio-economic backgrounds to the many opportunities available to them within Oakland and the Greater Bay Area. A typical participant is unaware that within Oakland’s city limits there are many boating and climbing opportunities, city owned stables, and hiking trails that take you through forests of redwoods and bay laurels.

During the Spring and Fall, youth aged 10 to 14 from OPR Recreation Centers participate in a series of six after-school activity sessions that include water safety training & swimming, kayaking, hiking, and rock climbing. Completion of these experiences qualify the youth to participate in a week-long summer camp that includes swimming, boating, and three days of camping in a state park where youth utilize their boating and swimming skills in the lake and learn about new trails and the joys of cooking over a camp fire and viewing the stars overhead. The camp includes camping meals, tents, sleeping bags, sleeping pads, and other basic camping equipment for the overnight camping trips. 2013 Sessions: August 12th-16th. Prerequisite: Participation in an OPR Recreation Outdoor Adventures after-school program or personal boating, hiking, and water safety experience.
